

Review

Song: "Lemonade"

By: Andrew Neil

Album Sunnyside released June 15, 2021

Brecon Indie Reviewer Team

Reviewer: Dirk Prisby (Rubber Clown Car Band)

Andrew Neil sounds like the son of Neil Young and Patti Smith.

A sparse arrangement adds to uplifting pathos of the song, especially when knowing Andrew's backstory.

We are all here for such a short time.

We all have tragedies and demons we face, some more than others.

If Andrew can make lemonade when faced with lemons of this magnitude, I think we all can.

If he never writes another song, he is already an inspiration. From chaos and damage comes beauty.