

"Don't Walk Away from Me" - Gareth Rhys

Bryan Robinson Brecon Indie Reviewer Team

From the moment I heard the shimmering, breezy arpeggio I definitely didn't want to walk away from the new song 'Don't walk away from me' by Gareth Rhys.

The vocals are beautifully melancholic, and reminiscent of Michael Stipe from REM. A seamlessly stitched key change wakes us up from the harmonic reverie before the string synth solo puts the wind back in our hair again.

This is followed by a breakdown, where the guitar and vocal remind us not to walk away once more.

So, don't walk away from this one!

The easy tune, and laconic, sunny delivery will take you on a road trip that will keep you smiling long after the sun goes down!