

Gamblin Man from Sunny Side by Andrew Neil

Love Battalion – Brecon Indie Review Team

Now on Bandcamp.

If you are into Bob Dylan, good storytelling and acoustic folk songs, "Gamblin Man," is for you!

Andrew has so many styles that push his vocal delivery and song writing style to a level that deserves a nod to Jim Morrison, "High, make me high!"

This song starts with a great story via the lyrics. "Gamblin Man," is a simple tune; just acoustic guitar and vocals that bounce around to fit the song. Sit back and listen to his story as he travels the land and plays cards with a scorpion.

A good tune for a chill out and to let your mind make its own video as the story unfolds through Andrew's vocals. Not only do the lyrics shine, but the imagery shines,

"The full moon was wearing a crown."

Check it out and dig what he is putting down; also, his Bandcamp has a great selection of music and merch, grab it while it is hot!
