

The Cranberry Merchants "Brand New Day"

Review by: Jack Baldwin of Wildhorse

Brecon Indie Reviewer Team

I really like how musically everything is soaked in reverb. It gives the song a unique sound that helps separate the band from anything else I have heard, putting them in their own lane.

The robotic guitar sounds also add an extra unique flare, giving it a modern angst feel.

The vocals are also 'really cool', the chorus preaches of "brand new day" are catchy as hell! Great voice too.

Another all-round brilliant track!