

The Reverent Cavaliers – Nothing Matters But Love

Reviewed by Brass Monkey

Brecon Indie Review Team

Coming out of Tennessee, The Reverent Cavaliers, "Nothing Matters But Love," originally released in 2017.

Straight into a rock guitar progression which drives the song, the score is quickly overlaid with a funky lead riff.

This track doesn't bore us, it gets straight to the chorus.

A quick solo then brings you straight into the second verse without a second wasted.

The verses are short and punchy, they quickly deliver the main payoff, the powerful chorus and main message of the song.

This is The Reverend Cavaliers' second offering on Spotify. They already have an extensive catalogue on Bandcamp for you to check out once you've heard this banger. Videos of their songs can be found on their YouTube channel.

Nothing matters but that you love "Nothing Matters but Love." I'm sure you will!