Like a Cowboy, this EP: Pluto Gods Vol 1, rides into the unknown!

On this magnum opus, Jørg Klein enlisted John Reneaud to lay down these beautiful songs. Jørg recorded the music through detailed conversations with John and created this masterpiece.

The EP begins with the epic, "Electrify Me;" a great start! The drums pound and Jørg provides great riffage!

"Secrets of Life," has some epic guitar work as well; reminiscent of Satriani or Vai. Raise your hands and touch the sky, and this song weaves through some great rock!

Chaos describes, "Five Times Lost," during which Jorg and John are joined by Jørg's former bandmate playing some emotional synth sounds. A truly great song!

There is a double song on the EP.

" I'll Be There," features Jared Asher from the band Love Battalion who crushes the drums in one version! The song tells the story of providing a safe haven for a child. John reminds you that he'll be there no matter what!

Released on Jørg's label, MX-PRO Records, they are choosing the path that favours the artists. You won't need to get to the Underworld to revel in their greatness, however they will be shunning Spotify. You'll find the EP on Amazon and iTunes immediately, with most streaming services following in 2 months' time.

It took the pair five months to create this opus. And, in about 27 minutes you can find some amazing guitar work and delightful lyrics

Make sure to find this EP, get electrified, and support the Pluto Gods!
