I feel my spirit rise! Listening to the new EP from Jorg Klein, is classic metal at its finest

The EP starts off with the track, I; you may just be frightened to the core! This track is very reminiscent of NWOBHM (New Wave Of British Heavy Metal) and hang with Priest or Iron Maiden any day!

Raging in second, is Remember Me. With an ominous riff, followed by some Spanish infused acoustic guitar, this track screams Sabbath. Iommi would be proud of the riffs!

A fitting follow up is a Children of the Grave, originally by Black Sabbath. If Iommi wasn't proud of Remember Me, surely, he is now!

There is no reason to listen to the noise in your head when Noise is available to crank up! Make it loud like he sings and find your repose!

At just under 18 minutes, this EP is best cranked loud! The guitar tones are great, the lead guitar shreds, and the band is tight!

Check it out, you won't be disappointed!
